

why shouldn't xm be allowed to broadcast instant weather and radio. it's a great benefit down here in rural georgia where the number of radio stations are limited. not to mention the fact that on regular radio i have to listen to an hour of commercials to get the weather update and then maybe they'll play one song before another dang commercial plays.